Amana Colonies Shopping, Dining & "The Church Basement Ladies"

Musical/Comedy Show @ The Old Creamery Theater

Thursday, May 9, 2019

Depart from Denver Savings Bank at 7:30 am arriving in the Amana Colonies at approximately 9:30 am. The early decedents of Amana emigrated from Germany and settled in West Seneca, NY. In order to pursue their beliefs and live a more isolated life they moved west to Central Iowa and so the history of the Amana Colonies began! Upon arrival at the Amanas we will have approximately an hour and a half to stroll down Main Street and do a little shopping! The Amana Colonies are known for a variety of unique shops that are sure to please everyone. They have a meat market, antique shop, quilt shop, woolen mill, boutiques and more!

Dine at the famous Ox Yoke Inn Restaurant. The Ox Yoke Inn Restaurant was established in 1856 and still serves many of the original dishes they prepared in the early 1800's. We will be served a delicious family style 3 entree banquet meal which includes pie and drink. There will be a little extra time to shop after lunch.

Enjoy the Old Creamery Theatre! Relax and be entertained by the delightful, wildly popular, musical comedy, The Church Basement Ladies. Be prepared for a lot of laughs as you fall in love with these Lutheran Ladies as they serve up lots of love and laughter!!#!!

We will return to Denver at approximately 6:30 pm.

Price includes ALL expenses: Motor coach transportation, lunch, gratuity, show ticket & LOTS of FUN!

Cost per person: $95 Club Members;
